

MRS. DALLIN HONORED BY LIBRARY TRUSTEES

Board Proposes "Vittoria. C. Dallin Branch Library"
As Most Appropriate Name For New Building—
Announcement Made At Dedication Exercises

The new branch of the Robbins library at Arlington Heights will be named the Vittoria C. Dallin Branch Library if a vote passed by the library trustees is approved by the annual town meeting next March. This was made known last Friday evening at the dedication of the new library building when Miss Esther Bailey read a vote of the library trustees passed on January 5 to the effect that the new branch be named after Mrs. Dallin in recognition of her tireless efforts in securing the much needed branch.

The dedication exercises were attended by a distinguished group of town officials, clergyman and club men and women. The colonial building was brightly illuminated for the first time, revealing to the visitors a most attractive brick exterior of colonial design and a most cheerful interior. Mr. Lucinda Spofford, head librarian greeted the invited guests as they entered the reading room on the main floor of the new building. Cut flowers, including roses and jonquils were used effectively throughout the reading room and the assembly hall.

While waiting for the evening's program, visitors had an opportunity to admire the new building. Above the long rows of bookshelves in the reading room, the walls are done in a pale green. The lighting is indirect to assure evenly distributed light. The main desk facing the front entrance divides the reading room in two sections, one for adults and the other for children. The furniture for the latter room is built on a scale adapted exclusively for children. Visitors found nothing lacking in the assembly hall in the basement; it is amply large enough for small gatherings, has a recessed platform which is tastefully trimmed in modern lines of brown and red. There are plenty of windows and exits. The floor is of asphalt tile in a pattern matching the color scheme of the hall. Attractive indirect lighting fixtures provide very good illumination. The acoustics of this little assembly hall were near perfect during the presentation of the opening program. That necessities were not overlooked in the designing of the new building was evidenced by the discovery of a completely equipped kitchen off this assembly hall, providing facilities for serving of refreshments at gatherings if desired. The building of course is of fireproof construction throughout.

Among those in the audience were the library trustees, the library committee, L. J. Santucci, general contractor who built the library building and Paul Mossman, building inspector who cooperated in many ways during the construction.

Gen. Cole To Speak Here

The next meeting of the Legion Post will take place on Tuesday, January 25 at which time Gen. Charles H. Cole, Adjutant General of the Commonwealth will speak. He will describe the National Guard as it exists today for a first line of defense. This talk will be illustrated with special moving pictures that are used in the training of the regular army and national guard.

Sheriff Joseph M. McElroy of Middlesex County addressed the members of Arlington Post No. 39, American Legion at the Legion Memorial Hall last week. He told them of the importance of proper youth training as a means of saving many youths from careers of crime.

Martin R. Durkin of Arlington Heights, representing the Community project, Inc., spoke to the members of the importance of assisting in this drive as a community project. He particularly stressed the importance of the Boys' Club.

January Sales In Local Stores

At a meeting of the directors of the Arlington Trade Associates this week, it was reported that several local stores would conduct special sales events this week-end and next.

Several stores are holding clearance sales this week-end; others will follow with End-of-the-Month sales next week. These sales give the people of Arlington an opportunity to purchase reliable merchandise at prices which have been greatly reduced following the taking of inventory in these progressive stores. There is a wide selection of merchandise in all of these stores. Read this week's NEWS and next for outstanding January Sales values.

Mrs. J. Herbert Mead will give a lecture on Parliamentary Law at the next meeting, Jan. 24, at the home of Mrs. Arthur Goodwin, 27 Hawthorne ave.

RESOLUTION IN MEMORY OF LATE H. A. PHINNEY

The following resolution was passed by the board of directors of the Arlington Co-operative Bank this week:

"Horatio A. Phinney, the Honored President of this Bank, passed from this life on Tuesday, January 4, 1938.

"For twenty years he presided over our deliberations with such tact and kindly courtesy as to endear him to each and every member of this Board, and his fairness, straightforwardness and integrity won the admiration, respect and esteem of directors and stockholders alike.

"During this period he devoted himself unflinchingly and enthusiastically to advancing the interest of this bank, ever striving to better its condition and enlarge its sphere of usefulness, as evidenced by this beautiful building, designed as its permanent home, which is a monument to his genius and foresight, and will ever stand as a memorial to his solicitude that this institution through whose instrumentality so many have been enabled to own their own homes, should itself have a permanent abiding-place of a character and dignity commensurate with the important part it has played in contributing to the happiness and well-being of our citizens.

"He loved humanity. The greatest joy of his life was in ministering to the comfort and happiness of others less fortunate than himself, and in this way he won a lasting place in the hearts and affections of all who knew him. No task was ever too great, or responsibility too heavy for him to assume, if thereby he could be of service to his fellow-men.

"Not only as head of this institution, a position he held for twenty years, but also as President for over a quarter of a century of the Symmes Arlington Hospital, and as a member of the Board of Selectmen of Arlington from 1915 to 1920, serving as Chairman in 1917 and again in 1920 he devoted himself to the public service, with a fidelity and singleness of purpose that is beyond praise.

"Gentle, kindly, warm-hearted, friendly, generous and sincere, his memory will ever be enshrined within our hearts, as that of a patriotic and public-spirited citizen who held always before him as a beacon-light guiding and directing the current of his life, the promotion of the welfare of his fellow-citizens in order that this community where he dwelt with honor and distinction for so many years, might be a better place in which to live. A copy of the resolution was sent Mrs. Phinney.

Out of respect for the memory of the late Mr. Phinney, the election of a new president was held over to the next meeting, in February.

CITIZENS' COMMITTEE PLANS FOR ELECTIONS

Over 450 Registered
For Evening Classes

The total number of adults registered for the Adult Education Classes being conducted by the Education committee, Mrs. George J. Savage, chairman, of the Arlington Woman's club reached 453 last Monday evening. The number was further increased last night and indications are that it will pass the 500 mark before the end of the series.

Despite the storm last Monday, adults continued to show keen interest in this educational opportunity. Classes are held at the senior high school every Monday and Thursday evening starting at 7:30 o'clock. Anyone can register for the remaining classes in the evening series.

Last evening, many enjoyed the second in the series of lectures on fraudulent advertising which was presented by Mrs. Raymond E. Shepherd. Her topic last evening was "Cosmetics". Lectures on drug, food and diet advertising are to follow. In her opening lecture last week, Mrs. Shepherd urged the regulation of radio advertising relating to foods.

The permanent headquarters of the Citizens' Committee will be at 801 Massachusetts Ave., near Bartlett Ave.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors last Tuesday night, in the Arlington Heights headquarters, the Citizens' Committee laid plans for the coming elections.

Felix Cutler, chairman, explained to the board the division of the town into precincts, each precinct to be covered by a captain with many workers under each captain.

A tentative budget was also laid out in regard to the expense that would be incurred in the coming campaign.

The qualification committee was appointed to help in the selection of qualified candidates who will be endorsed by the Committee. This committee consists of J. J. Smith, Mortimer Wells, Archibald C. Loyens, Mr. Charles A. Alden and Arthur Davidson. Mr. Smith is chairman and Mr. Cutler as Chairman ex-officio. Candidates seeking the endorsement should immediately get in touch with the qualification committee.

The Citizens' Committee will be at 801 Massachusetts Ave., near Bartlett Ave.

Grove Street Is Made Two-Way

The board of selectmen at its meeting Monday evening voted two changes in the Traffic Regulations. Section 2 of Article 6 was amended by striking out that portion relating to Grove street as a one-way street from Summer street to Dudley street. This portion was formerly made one-way because Grove street opened out opposite Hospital Hill which was once the scene of a serious accident. Since a new road has been built to the Symmes Hospital and the old Hospital road has been closed, traffic is now allowed both ways on Grove street.

Section 1, of Article 6 was amended by inserting in paragraph 11 a new rule that no vehicles shall stand on the southerly side of Massachusetts avenue from the Robbins library drive westerly, a distance of 25 feet. This action was taken to give those motorists coming out of the Library drive a better view up the avenue when making a left turn. It will mean the sacrificing of but three auto spaces.

Byrne Out For Public Works

John B. Byrne, of Chestnut street, took out nominating papers for election to the board of public works this week.

Mr. Byrne has served four years as Park Commissioner and was chairman of that board last year. He is very well-known as a plumbing contractor and has been active in town affairs.

Captain Zartarian To Address Armenian Club

Capt. Sarkis Zartarian will give account of his travels in Europe last summer at the first public meeting of the year of the Armenian Citizens' club at the Ye Lantern next Sunday, at 2:30 p. m. Capt. Zartarian attended the Rotary International Convention in France and then took in other points of interest on the continent. His anecdotes have been very much enjoyed by other organizations and the Citizens' club is looking forward to hearing them.

Representative George M. Kurzon will also be a speaker at this meeting. In addition to the speakers there will be a program of music and a short humorous skit entitled "The Three Plums," to be enacted by Harry Ananian and Steve Aghazarian.

Refreshments will be served. There will be no admission charge and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Two Are Injured In Coasting Accidents

Mrs. Helen Costello, of 51 Richmond road, suffered injury to her right ankle while tobogganing on Crosby's Farm Sunday afternoon. She was removed to the Symmes hospital for treatment.

In another coasting accident Friday evening, Harold Nostrom, of 28 Belknap street received a bad cut to a finger. This accident happened on Eastern avenue. The 17-year-old victim was removed to the Symmes hospital.

Flemming Elected To Local Planning Board

Hartwell Flemming of 31 Cedar avenue was unanimously elected by the board of selectmen and planning board last Monday evening to fill the vacancy on the planning board left by the resignation of Walter F. Robinson. The appointment will be in effect until the next annual election in March.

William Ernest Guarente, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William Guarente of 18 Fordham st., celebrated his fourth birthday on Tuesday with many of his friends and playmates as guests.

LOCAL COMMUNITY CHEST APPEAL IN FULL SWING

First Report Meeting Held Last Night—Two More
To Follow Before Drive Closes—Enthusiastic
Group Hears Mayor Childs At Opening Dinner

Final tabulation of the first returns made last night by workers in the Arlington Community Chest Appeal went to press. The NEWS is on in full swing and every home will be visited before next Wednesday.

With all preliminary plans and arrangements completed by the officers of the Arlington Community Chest, the second annual appeal got under way Monday evening at a big dinner attended by 350 workers in Robbins Memorial town hall. The opening dinner reached a thrilling climax with the ringing of church bells and fire whistles at 8:30 o'clock sharp just as Mayor Edwin O. Childs, of Newton, the principal speaker of the evening, was bringing his most inspiring message to a close.

Precinct leaders, team captains and workers were seated at long tables which took every available space on the town hall floor. On the stage, at the main table were Harold M. Estabrook, chairman of the board of selectmen; J. William Fellows, president of the Chest; Russell P. Wise, general chairman; Rev. Grady D. Feagan, who gave the invocation; Rev. John Nicol Mark who was toastmaster; Joseph S. Keating, superintendent of schools; Mayor Childs; and the following representing the agencies participating in the Community Chest: Chief Archie F. Bullock, president of the Arlington Boys' Club; Mrs. Franklin P. Hawkes, Arlington Girl Scout Commissioner; Mrs. Roger W. Homer, president of the Arlington Visiting Nursing association; Miss Annie L. Heaney, regent of the Massachusetts Catholic Women's Guild; Mrs. John O. Matthews, chairman of the town committee representing the Massachusetts Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Children; John A. Bishop, president of St. Vincent de Paul Society, Arlington branch; William H. Eckert, president of Sachem Council Boy Scouts; and Mrs. Roscoe R. Perry, president of the Arlington Welfare Council.

Officers of the Chest seated at another table on the platform were Irving Poole, Nelson J. Bowers, Mrs. William A. Muller, Miss Bernice J. Holmes as well as the following campaign committee members: Mrs. Clifford Gleason, Paul N. Voncks, W. Dale Barker.

The toastmaster paid tribute to Mr. Fellows for his unselfish work as president of the Chest. In answer, Mr. Fellows extended his welcome to the workers and praised them for their community

Horace G. Taylor, Chester R. Whitman, Edward B. Caulkins, Mrs. Russell T. Hamlet and Mrs. Robert W. Murphy.

During the dinner community singing was enjoyed under the direction of Russell T. Hamlet with Edward W. Center at the piano. Following the dinner, Mr. Wise extended greetings and sincere thanks for the large turnout of workers despite the severe storm which made walking and driving unpleasant. He announced report meetings for January 20, 24 and 26 at the Chest headquarters in Arlington Centre. He further announced the Symmes Hospital staff had contributed 100 per cent and furthermore it had raised its contributions to the Chest by 66 per cent, this being a most encouraging forecast of the final results of the 1938 Appeal.

J. Milton Washburn, chairman of the instruction committee, next gave last-minute instructions to workers in a most interesting and convincing manner.

In giving the keynote of the Appeal, Rev. Mr. Mark said, "A community is no stronger than its weakest families. The organizations in the Chest are out to make our weak families strong. They need and deserve the support of the entire community." He then introduced Mrs. Roscoe R. Perry, president of the Welfare Council, who spoke briefly on behalf of the participating organizations.

The toastmaster paid tribute to Mr. Fellows for his unselfish work as president of the Chest. In answer, Mr. Fellows extended his welcome to the workers and praised them for their community

Tufts Dean Addresses Junior High West PTA

In an address to the Junior High West P. T. A. last Tuesday evening, Dr. Edwin A. Shaw, dean of the Tufts School of Education urged parents to meet their children half-way in trying to see their viewpoint. He spoke of the relation between parents, schools and pupils and stressed the importance of junior high schools in closing the gap between elementary and high schools. Frank E. Hart presided at the short business meeting which was followed by a social hour during which refreshments were served. Mr. Hart spoke at length on the Community Chest drive and the association pledged its support 100 per cent. The next meeting will be held February 15 at which time Dr. Stanley G. Eastes, professor of psychology at Northeastern University, will be the speaker.

Locals Edge Newton, 2-1

Arlington High's hockey sextet increased its margin over Newton High by defeating the latter, 2 to 1 at the Boston Garden last Saturday afternoon. Larry Babine scored the first goal early in the game taking the pass from Bill Lyons. A short while later, Lindy Blanchard and Bill Duffey went down the ice, passing the puck back and forth. Blanchard scored its lone tally while Duffey was in the penalty box.

CHURCHES OF CHRIST SCIENTIST
"Truth" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, January 23.
The Golden Text is: "Thou, O Lord, art a God full of compassion, and gracious, long-suffering, and plenteous in mercy and truth" (Psalms 86:15).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Shew me thy ways, O Lord; teach me thy paths. Lead me in thy truth, and teach me: for thou art the God of my salvation; on thee do I wait all the day" (Psalms 25:4,5).
The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The spiritual sense of truth must be gained before Truth can be understood. This sense is assimilated only as we are honest, unselfish, loving, and meek in the soil of an honest and good heart; the seed must be sown; else it beareth not much fruit, for the swinish element in human nature uproots it" (p. 272).

We extend a cordial invitation to all who have no other church home.

Girl Scout Notes

Arlington Girl Scouts' first day of winter sports this season, at Cedar Hill, last Saturday was a decided success. Forty girls and their leaders, with skis and skates, revelled in the deep snow to their heart's content, knowing there was a good fire in the Workshop to dry them, and another for making hot cocoa.

There will be another trip this Saturday, January 22, and, as before, only the first forty girls who register at the office immediately will go. The bus leaves the Old Town Hall at 9:45 a. m., the Park Ave. Congregational Church at 10:00 and the Standply at 10:10 a. m. Girls are requested to bring their own cup for cocoa.

The following Leaders were in charge last week, Mrs. P. K. Griffin, Mrs. Bruce Young, Mrs. Lawrence Ballard and Frances Griffin.

The Brownies of Pack 1, have recently added a number of new games to their already plentiful store, among them are "Poor Pussy", "Kitty, Kitty", and a Swing game.

Two weeks ago, we had as our guest, a Brownie doll, who came to the meeting with Jean Tarbox. Last week, we spent the morning sewing, cutting and pasting scrapbooks for the Children's Hospital.

A Taxi Driver's Advice on How to GET THROUGH BOSTON TRAFFIC

"Take a tip from me. I know all the tricks. Even for a professional, Boston traffic is tough—but for an amateur there's just one smart thing to do."

"Figure it out. You pay 5c a mile to drive a small car—7½c for a medium and 11c for a large car."

"You pay 25c to 50c to park. Or you pay fines if you don't—it's expensive."

"Me? You have to pay me to get into that mess. When I'm off the job and want to go to Boston I take the train. It's the only way to beat Boston traffic."

To Discuss Cooperative Movement At Adelphian Class Meeting, Sunday

The Adelphian Class of the First Baptist Church has a very interesting meeting scheduled for Sunday evening.

Prof. C. M. McConneil, who has had personal contact with such influential leaders as Kagiwa, will discuss the Co-operative Movement. This will be beneficial as well as interesting since this is a prominent movement in the world today.

The Adelphians will also enjoy the privilege of having Mrs. Olson as their guest singer.

On Monday evening, January 24th the K. of C. forty-five team will visit the rooms of the Hibernians to start off a round robin tournament. The play will start at 8 o'clock.

New Hudson Car Now At Local Showroom

W. G. Tenney, recently attended a meeting in Boston where the new Hudson 112 was unveiled for the first time in this vicinity. Mr. Pratt, from the Hudson factory in Detroit, was on hand for the ceremony and stated that the factory is already swinging into full production, and volume shipments of this new entry in the lowest price field are now being made. The new car is on display at the local Hudson Agency, corner Mass. Ave., and Mill st.

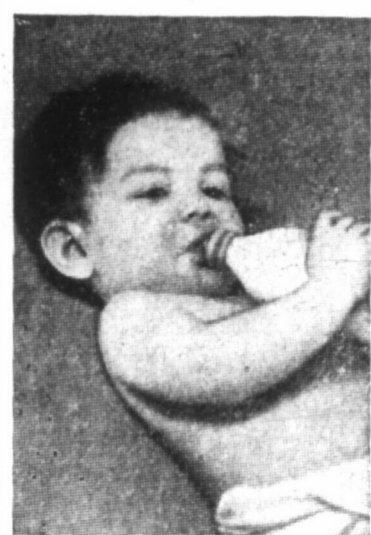

The new car is particularly outstanding in the matter of size, roominess and advance mechanical and safety features heretofore confined to higher priced cars.

HERE'S MY prescription for sturdy bones

Drink plenty of milk—and for milk of more nutritive value you should drink Whiting's IRRADIATED Milk. Thousands of children, adults too, are gaining its benefit. It is an economical and convenient source of that important vitamin, Vitamin D, needed to develop and nourish bones and teeth properly. Start the children—with their daily quota of a quart a day—they will like it—and it's so good for them.

Morine Out For School Board

John P. Morine of 63 Cleveland st. has announced his candidacy for the School Committee in the March election. Mr. Morine, as lived in Arlington for the past 25 years. He is a graduate of Tufts College and a town meeting member from Precinct One.

As assistant director of the Ellis Memorial and Eldridge H. Inc., a settlement house on Berkeley st., Boston, Mr. Morine's work is principally with youth. Formerly he was with the Juvenile Court of Boston, organizing club work for delinquent boys. He attended the schools and Hebrew Academy. Mr. Morine believes that the viewpoint of a younger man will be beneficial to the school committee. Other things being equal he is in favor of the appointment of local people to school vacancies. He is pledged to have the best possible school system within the budget as voted by the town meeting.

Burnell Shinn, 74 Florence ave., succeeded R. F. Needham as president of the Patterson Fellowship at the second annual meeting attended by thirty members at the home of Christine Cartmel, 9 Peter Tufts rd. The other members of the new official board are Marjorie McCann, vice president; Gertrude Hesselstine, treasurer; Lois Mead, secretary (re-elected); and Alma Peirce, program director. Committee reports were made by Robert Hunt, Myrtle Fielder, Albert K. Peirce, Burnell Shinn and Marjorie McCann. "Once In A Million" is the name of a play to be presented by the Theatrical Committee late in April. Jean Parley became a member. Under the direction of Myrtle Fielder a lively series of games preceded refreshments served by Alice Jones, Miss Cartmel and her mother. The Fellowship meets February 9 at the home of Marjorie McCann, 51 Academy street.

Twenty-eight members of the Samaritan Society banded the independent weather Monday to attend the 96th annual meeting in the parish hall. Mrs. Frank Harwood presided. Mrs. Mary Winn, one of the older members, read an interesting paper relating to the activities of the Society during the first seventy years after its founding on January 12, 1842. To signalize nearly a century of helpfulness in the life of the church and the community of a candle was lighted in the center of a large birthday cake decorated like a basket of flowers.

The election of officers resulted in the choice of Mrs. Alice Jones for president; Mrs. Charles Dubig, vice president; Mrs. Charles Surlette, secretary; Mrs. Howard Hawkins, treasurer; Mrs. Marjorie Shinn and Miss Florence Smith board members for three years. Continuing as board members are Mrs. Marion Peirce, Mrs. Lettie Llewellyn, Mrs. Ernest Gray and Mrs. Grace Belyea, president of the Mission Circle.

Mrs. Marjorie Shinn reviewed a study book on rural church life in America at the meeting of the Mission Circle last Monday morning. There was a shower of linen for the Doolittle Universalist Home at Foxboro and the Bethany Union, a boarding house for working girls on Worcester st., Boston.

"A Faith To Use" was the sermon subject of Rev. Mr. Rice last Sunday in which he made an eloquent appeal for support of Arlington's Community Chest.

Universalist National Memorial Church which is located opposite the Scottish Rite Temple. Accompanied by her son Philip she went to Atlanta, Ga., just before Christmas and was met by John, the elder son, who drove them to Tuscaloosa, Alabama, where he is supervising a project on the Black Warrior River.

Barbara Shinn is home from a visit with relatives in Limerick and Kezar Falls, Maine, Walter Hanscom and his niece, Eugenia Hanscom, are spending the winter at St. Petersburg, Florida.

The annual meeting of the First Universalist Society is being held in the vestry this evening.

Thomas L. Jones, 50 Florence avenue, succeeded Howard H. Dawes as president of the Men's club at the annual meeting Tuesday night. Albert K. Peirce was re-elected vice president; Clarence Needham re-elected treasurer, and Edward Sandberg continues as secretary pro tem. Robert L. Hawkins, 58 Scituate street, was elected to membership. The secretary was instructed to send letters of appreciation to Mrs. Alice Jones and Mrs. Mildred Dawes for their service in connection with the Club's grocery table which netted seventy dollars for the annual fair. Mr. Dawes was appointed chairman of a committee to produce an entertainment in May. Before the meeting a delicious oyster stew was served by Charles Dubig and W. Edward Russell.

Many of the church people accepted the club's invitation to enjoy "movietone" glimpses of beautiful and historic places along the route of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad, surveyed originally by George Washington.

U. S. Assistant District Attorney Addresses K. C.

At the Knights of Columbus meeting on Thursday, January 13 the largest attendance in years was present. The principal speaker was United States Assistant District Attorney William T. McCarthy, who gave a very interesting talk on the apprehension and prosecution of Federal criminals.

Before the main address Attorney Martin Durkin of Arlington addressed the members with regard to the Community Chest.

Rev. Matthew J. Flaherty, the Council Chaplain, was present and spoke to the members, and Father Harkins of St. James' Church was introduced to the members of the Council.

John B. Davidson announced a week-end retreat for the men of the Arlington District which will take place at the Passionist Monastery, February 25th to 27th.

Grand Knight Harry J. O'Reilly announced a first degree for some twenty-five candidates next month. Chairman Thomas F. Sullivan presented an excellent entertainment which was followed by a collation.

John Hatfield was injured in a fall in his home last Tuesday. He was removed to the Symmes hospital for treatment.

Bishop Sherrill Here Sunday

Next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock Bishop Sherrill will visit St. John's Church and confirm a class of twenty-five. The Bishop will also preach.

Next Tuesday evening, at 8 o'clock, the splendid choir of St. Paul's Cathedral, Boston, will unite with St. John's choir in a service of Choral Evensong, making altogether a chorus of some fifty voices. Program of music: Processional, "Ye watchers and ye holy ones"; musical setting of Psalms 15 and 24; Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis, Stanford; "Glorious Lord"; Bach; "I waited for the Lord"; Mendelssohn; hymn, "O for a closer walk with God," with doxology; anthem setting of 150th Psalm, Franck; "God be in my head"; Davies; recessional, "Lift up your heads ye mighty ones"; The Very Rev. Philemon F. Sturges, D. D., Dean of St. Paul's Cathedral, will deliver an address. This should be one of the most inspiring services ever held in St. John's Church.

All are cordially invited to unite in these special services.

Junior Woman's Club

No subject could be more vital to the young girl than hygienic living and a knowledge of social diseases. Dr. Leonice F. Hutchinson, told the members of the Arlington Junior Woman's Club at their meeting last Monday evening.

Weather conditions have been so favorable that the Juniors are contemplating a sleigh party. Miriam Stevens, 248 Park ave., and Mary Brown, 9 Surry rd., have been appointed co-chairmen. All Juniors who have not already designated their desire to be included in an outing of this sort are asked to contact either of the co-chairmen.

The Blind Circle, sponsored by the Arlington Junior Woman's Club, will have its next meeting at the Baptist Church, Arlington Center, at 2:30, Saturday, January 22. All Juniors are cordially invited to be present and give what assistance they can.

An interesting talk is anticipated for the next regular meeting of the Arlington Junior Woman's Club. Fred Miller, a graduate of both Harvard University and Oxford, England, and Dean of the Oxford School of Business Administration, will present as his subject, "Life in European Universities."

THE VITTORIA C. DALLIN BRANCH LIBRARY

The citizens of Arlington have every reason to be proud of the new branch library at the Heights, which was formally opened last Friday evening. It has been fittingly and admirably named. It is a gem; its simplicity and modesty make it beautiful.

Nobody can say that the Town was over-hasty and rushed head-long into the construction of this building; the matter was given eight long years of careful deliberation.

We commend the Library Committee led by the patient, persistent and persuasive Mrs. Dallin, for its faith and hope and for everlastingly pushing forward and onward to its goal, and congratulate it on its victory which redounds to the credit of our Town.

Our churches and schools and libraries are true symbols of civilization, and their condition in the community is a fair index of the intelligence and quality of the people. The enlargement of our library service means greater opportunity for all to read and learn. It is sure to result in more tolerant and kindly relations one with the other, and produce greater sweetness and charm in the joy of living.

In recognition of the great service rendered by Mrs. Dallin in working to the end that her dream of a branch library in the Heights came true, the trustees of the Robbins library have recommended that the new branch be named, "The Vittoria C. Dallin Branch Library." This is most fitting and we feel certain the annual town meeting will voice its unanimous approval.

Heights Improvement Association Elects Officers For 1938

The Arlington Heights Improvement Association, at a meeting of the Board of Directors last Tuesday night in the Heights Fire Station, elected officers for the coming year.

William P. Shine was elected President for a second term; Ernest S. Johnson was elected first vice-president; George P. Down, second vice-president; L. H. Howe, secretary; and Guy Edwards, treasurer.

Due to a vacancy on the Board of Directors, L. H. Howe of 206 Florence ave. was appointed a director to fill the unexpired term.

During the meeting many new objectives were discussed with a view to improve many things in the Heights sections.

The Community Chest appeal week was discussed in full, and nearly 40 members of the association are hard at work in this section of the town, soliciting funds for the Chest.

ST. AGNES' C. D. A.

St. Agnes' Court, Catholic Daughters of America will conduct an initiation of a large class of candidates next Monday night in Legion Hall by the degree staff assisted by District Deputy Mrs. Rose Hackett of Malden. At the conclusion of the meeting the Entertainment Committee will meet to plan for the Gentlemen's Night on February 14.

Second Annual Youth Week At Park Avenue Congregational Church

Next Sunday morning at 10:45, Rev. Clifford Simpson will preach on "The Challenge Still Holds Today" at the first session of the second annual Youth Week in the church. Two young people will assist in the morning worship. Miss Judith Martin and Clifford Boyd.

The purpose of this week is to recognize the part of young people in the work of the church and to show some of their activities to the adults. Last year's Week was so successful that the Church Council was unanimous in its approval for another one.

In the evening at 7:00, Rev. Kenneth Anthony of Belmont, who spent some time teaching at Yale-in-China, will speak on "Christian Youth Building a New World." Miss Nancy Pierce and Stanley Lovejoy will conduct the worship.

During the Week two social events are planned: on Tuesday, a roller skating party, and on Saturday, a splash party at the Somerville Y.

The Youth Week Council comprises Miss Castine Swanson, chairman; Virginia Maxwell, Nancy Pierce, Judith Martin, Barbara Scott, Herbert Evans, Clifford Boyd, Bertram Cass, and Mr. J. Howard Hayes, sponsor.

Intentions of marriage have been filed by Haskell W. Reed of Lexington and Thelma F. Soderquist of 30 Crescent Hill avenue.

The NEWS OBSERVES

Next Monday evening's special town meeting in the Robbins town hall should provide a lively prologue for the annual town meeting coming in March. Articles to be voted in were listed in last Friday's NEWS.

The resignation of Henry T. Harriman, chairman of the board of public trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway, reached Governor Hurley this week. Mr. Harriman's recent appointment as one of the American representatives at the international labor conference at Geneva which will mean considerable absence from Boston was the reason for the resignation. William P. (Hiker) Joy, former assistant football coach at B. C. has been named by Governor Hurley to fill the vacancy on the board.

This is the week set aside for the Appeal of the Arlington Community Chest. Wear your orange feather and let your friends know that you have done your part.

The second storm to hit Arlington within two weeks added another cost of $3,500 to the Town as the Public Works department called out an army of workers and put all available equipment as well as hired trucks to work last Monday clearing away the ten-inch snowfall.

Close to two hundred men were employed to plow local streets this week. Four plows including the big Diesel-operated plow were kept busy all day Monday and up until 2 a. m. Tuesday. Thirteen trucks were hired and these were used to load snow from the snow-loader all day Monday and until 2 a. m. Tuesday. On Tuesday, five trucks were used to haul the remainder of the snow from Massachusetts avenue. Horse-drawn plows were used for sidewalk work.

Dr. John Mark, noted chemist of Cambridge, will be the guest speaker tonight at the second annual "Parents and Pupils" night in the Arlington Heights Baptist Church, in a program sponsored by the Bible School at 7:30 p. m. Walter M. MacFarlane, superintendent of the Bible School has announced that Dr. Mark will give a chemical demonstration of John 3:16. A social hour will follow. Families of Bible School pupils are invited.

A Camera Club is being organized in Arlington. All those interested are urged to contact either Curtis Pinkham, of 4 West street or Sam Lanham of 321 Gray street.

Sunday "Snow Trains" from Boston to the Eastern Slope region in New Hampshire with stops at Conway, North Conway, Intervale and Bartlett; a Sunday "Scenic Snow Cruise" through Crawford Notch to Payson, N. H.; the regular weekend "Snow Trains" from Boston to 15 destinations in New Hampshire and Vermont; a special weekend service on Saturday and Sunday for those enthusiasts who want to take in the sled-dog races and intercollegiate events at Exeter, N. H., is the winter sports program for the coming week-end. It was announced last night by Henry F. McCarthy, passenger traffic manager of the Boston and Maine Railroad.

Historical Arlington

Exclusive Arlington News Feature

THE JASON RUSSELL HOUSE - 1680

The Jason Russell House may truly be regarded as one of the oldest, the most historical and certainly, the best known landmark in Arlington.

This house was erected about 1680 by Martha Russell, widow of William Russell and it is said that the land had been purchased twenty years before. The house was occupied until 1890 by her descendants after one of whom, Jason Russell, it takes its name.

Here was the spot where the most desperate fighting in all Menotomy took place on April 19, 1775. A graphic description of that memorable day was given by Samuel Abbott Smith in an address entitled, "West Cambridge on April 19, 1775" (Jason Russell).

... being old and lame had started at noon with his wife and children to go up for safety to George Prentiss' on the hill, but after proceeding a little way he let them go on alone, and came back to look after things at home. Ammi Cutler, his neighbor came from his house across the brook to see Mr. Russell and advised him to go to a place of greater security. He refused saying, "An Englishman's house is his castle." Mr. Cutler left him, and as he was getting over the wall on the other side of the road, he saw the advance of the flanking party close behind him. He ran, and stumbling fell between the logs at the old mill, the bullets stripping off the bark upon him. They thought he was dead and passed on. The flanking party south of the road had, meanwhile made a circuit along the foot of the hill, and driven in the Americans who unsuspectingly were lying in wait there, pressing them down upon the main body. Finding no other chance of escape, they rushed into Mr. Russell's house. Mr. Russell himself, being lame, was the last to reach the house, and was shot with two bullets, in his own door way; they found afterwards eleven bayonet stabs on the body of the poor old man. The soldiers rushed in killing all they could find concealed in various parts of the house. The Beverly men and some others, eight in all, fled to the cellar, and pointing their guns up the stairs, threatened instant death to anyone who should come down, and they escaped. One Englishman was shot on the cellar stairs, and another elsewhere on the premises. Our people gathered up the Americans who were killed in and about the house, and laid them side by side in the south room, and when Mrs. Russell came back to her home, she found there, weltering in their own blood her husband and eleven others. She said the blood in that room was almost ankle deep. The house itself was riddled with bullets and the marks of them in many places are still visible.

It is hard to believe that such excitement could ever have taken place on peaceful Jason st., yet a visit to Jason Russell House will testify the truth of Samuel Smith's tale. The bullet holes may be seen today, together with many another souvenir of Colonial life carefully collected by the Arlington Historical Society which has purchased the house and dedicated it to the people of Arlington as its own museum.

MULLER URGES ARLINGTON PEOPLE SUPPORT GREATER BOSTON COMMUNITY FUND

Better public understanding of the humanitarian needs of Arlington as a community, and how these needs are met both by local organizations and by agencies in Greater Boston's Community Fund, is the aim of William A. Muller, Community Fund chairman for Arlington, in a message sent out this week to his townspeople, in advance of Greater Boston's 1938 Community Fund Campaign, January 24 to February 8.

"Now that our activities are about completed for the Arlington Community Chest, I would like to point out some of the reasons why we of Arlington should all do our part in raising the required amount for the Boston fund," says Mr. Muller in this appeal to his fellow citizens.

"The people of Arlington have for many years provided certain public and private services to care for some of the social and health needs of its citizens. However, Arlington, in common with seventy-odd cities and towns making up Greater Boston, has also benefited by the many hospitals, health and welfare services, centrally located in the city of Boston and not available locally.

"We must remember, too, that these cities and towns making up Greater Boston form a closely knit community where epidemics of disease and crime know no boundary lines. The health and well-being of Arlington people is secure, just so far as all the parts of this Greater Boston area are made safer, healthier and more prosperous places in which to live and make a living.

"Here in Arlington we support through the Arlington Community Chest local Boy and Girl Scout, visiting nurse, Red Cross, welfare and tuberculosis units. But Arlington people also are privileged to help support through Greater Boston's Community Fund the many agencies which supplement local services and serve their own townspeople.

"For example, last year on a single representative day, more than 50 Arlington patients were found in the wards of clinics of Greater Boston's Community Fund hospitals, representing an annual deficit to Community Fund agencies of $28,611.

During the year 433 young people of Arlington turned to Boston youth agencies; 63 people, physically handicapped were helped; 105 children were aided by children's agencies; ten women and children were given convalescent care; 40 received legal aid; 21 were given employment service; 12 older women received institutional care.

"Officers and directors of both the Arlington Community Chest and Greater Boston's Community Fund believe that there is no conflict of loyalties between the two organizations, and that in supporting both, Arlington people share in the support of services to their own fellow townsmen.

Viking Club To Back Anderson

The Viking Club at an enthusiastic meeting Tuesday evening at Wymann's voted to endorse Harold N. Anderson for Selectman at the coming election in March.

The Viking Club is composed of citizens of Arlington who are of Scandinavian birth or parentage and they have felt for a long time that they should be recognized in some major town office.

In Harold N. Anderson they feel that they have a young man of excellent business experience, who is a trained and certified public accountant by profession; who was born in Arlington in 1900 and educated in our public schools. Thereafter he graduated from North-eastern University and did special work at the Lowell Textile School.

Mr. Anderson's business experience, knowledge of tax administration, as well as his service on the Arlington Finance Committee, of which he is chairman, should be of great value to the citizens of Arlington in the Selectmen's office, the club feels. He knows the effects of taxes on business and what the burden of taxes means to the people of the Town as he is a taxpayer himself.

He is married and has one child with a residence at 189 Seaside st.

The club held its annual election of officers, electing Eric I. Anderson as president; Albert Hansen, vice president; Christian J. Berglund, secretary and Carl Eversberg, treasurer.

Officers for 1938 were elected by the Community Club at its regular meeting in American Legion Hall last evening. Supper and an entertainment were enjoyed.

ARLINGTON COAL & LUMBER Co.
41 PARK AVE. TEL. ARL. 1100

At a tea given at their home last Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. John Muller of 67 Magnolia st. announced the engagement of their daughter, Wilma, to Arvid Goswold of Jamaica Plain. No date has been set for the wedding.

The Tower Mothers' Club met recently at the home of Mrs. Earl W. Parker, 33 Hawthorne ave. The speaker was Mrs. Albert Scott who gave a lecture on the Philosophy of Personality.

THREE WELFARE AID RECIPIENTS IN COURT

Three public welfare recipients who, according to testimony presented by Clifford W. Cook, welfare agent and Police officer William Scanlan, investigator for this department, failed to report to the welfare agent the receipt of outside funds, while they were still getting welfare aid from the town, were arraigned in the East Cambridge district court last Thursday on charges of larceny from the town.

Harry Ross, of 49 Park street was fined $60 after he had pleaded guilty to six counts of larceny of groceries, fuel and cash from the town. He appealed the fine and was held in $500 bonds for the Superior Court.

Ross, according to the local officials received on Dec. 24, $400 in settlement of an auto accident which occurred September 5, 1937 and received welfare aid the same day. Since then, he allegedly received $84.75 in welfare aid.

Charles Lay, of Park avenue, allegedly received $125 as commission in a real estate deal on October 22 and the same day, received $5 from the local welfare. Since getting the commission, he also received a total of $108 in welfare aid, which he claimed he spent in paying bills. He pleaded guilty to charges of larceny of $1 and $4 worth of groceries from the town on December 22 and his case was placed on file. He was given a year's probation. Judge Robert Walcott expressed surprise that the defendant, a Canadian, had never taken out citizenship papers in this country where he made his living.

The third case was that of Mrs. Mary Agostino, of 13 Cottage ave. who, it was testified, received $200 on Dec. 31 in settlement of an auto accident claim and got welfare aid the same day as well as on January 7 when police filed their complaint against her. She testified that she used the $200 to pay old bills. Judge Walcott ordered the continuance of this case to February 10 at which time the persons to whom Mrs. Agostino paid the bills are to be summoned to court. The case will be discussed on that date.

In commenting on these three cases, Welfare Agent Cook and Officer Scanlan made it plain that the welfare department gives aid to those people who have absolutely no income and that any recipient who receives money from any outside source is expected to notify town authorities even though the funds received from some source other than the town are used to pay up old bills.

St. Malachi Court To Meet Thursday

St. Malachi, Court No. 81 M. C. O. F. will meet next Thursday evening in A. O. H. hall at 8 p. m. with Mrs. Kathleen M. Cunniff, chief ranger, presiding. Many important items will be discussed and plans formulated for a quarter-century membership night to take place next month at which emblems will be presented to all members who have completed 25 or more years in the Order.

Miss Mary McCarthy, deputy high chief ranger and Mrs. Marion C. Noone, district deputy will report on the conference held by the high chief ranger last Sunday in Hotel Westminster to discuss future activities in the Order and outline plans for a membership drive throughout the State. After the business meeting a Charity Whist and Bridge Party will take place and this affair is open to the public.

On January 22nd at 2.30 p. m. in the Brackett School Auditorium, the second movie for the children will be given by the Parent-Teachers Association of that school.

"Goofs" Entertain Here This Evening

Laughs galore are promised for this evening when "The Goofs", popular WEI Broadcasting company artists appear at the Junior High East auditorium under the auspices of St. Jerome's parish. These artists, including Del Caeillo, Ray Girardin, Jack Beauvais and Bill Elliott can be depended upon to provide a lively program of comedy and music with not a dull moment from start to finish. The audience too will be invited to take active part in the program, according to advance information. The party begins at 8 sharp.

A joint meeting of the Arlington Zonta Club with the Somerville Zonta Club will be held at the Winchester Country Club, Thursday, January 27—dinner at 6 p. m. The Rev. Laurence L. Barber will give his illustrated lecture on "Old Quebec and the Gaspe Peninsula".

Mrs. Dallin

construction of the new building.

Praises Architect

In his opening remarks, William A. Muller, chairman of the board of trustees, said, "This building is so attractive and complete that it is a complete work in the book of success of William Proctor, of the firm of Gay and Proctor, architects. Furthermore, I doubt that you will find any defects in it because its construction was entrusted to a young man who spared no effort to see that it was done well. I refer to Louis Santucci, contractor. The building was completed well within the appropriation and there is not a single bill for labor or materials."

Proceeding words of welcome by Mr. Muller, a string quartet comprising John Powers, violin; Bernadine Brooks, viola; Virginia Brooks, cello; and Alice Thoren, piano, presented Mozart's "Night Suite". Rev. Richard T. Broeg, pastor of the First Methodist Church gave the invocation.

Harold M. Estabrook, chairman of the board of selectmen was then introduced. He recalled the first branch library in the Heights, in a small second-floor room above what is now the office of the Arlington Coal & Lumber company, and later, the transfer of the library to the Locke school, first to fairly large quarters and then to still smaller quarters when the increase in number of school pupils at this school made it necessary to allot but a small space to the branch library. Mr. Estabrook then called attention to the agitation started mainly by Mrs. Dallin for a separate building. He praised the patience of the people of the Heights in waiting until the town meeting saw fit to approve an appropriation for the building. Mr. Estabrook predicted the new building would do much to increase community consciousness at the Heights and, as a resident of that section, he expressed his gratitude to the town for the new branch. The chairman of selectmen then presented the key to the building to Mr. Muller with his best wishes and hope that the latter would continue to serve as chairman of the library trustees for many more years.

Mr. Muller expressed pride in accepting the key to the first branch of the oldest free public library in the Commonwealth and the first branch of the oldest children's free public library in the United States.

Miss Esther Bailey then read the vote of the Robbins library trustees suggesting that the branch be named after Mrs. Dallin. A burst of applause followed. In reply Mrs. Dallin to whom the meeting was turned over at this point, said: "I am very grateful for the honor which the trustees wish to confer upon me. It's a pleasure to be rewarded for a delightful time because, after all, it was very delightful to work towards the realization of this dream. It is my privilege as a representative of the citizens of Arlington Heights to express our gratitude to our selectmen, our town meeting members, our finance committee, our moderator, our architect and builder, in fact everyone who had a hand in making this building possible.

"We see today the realization of a community dream of many years. I want to thank all my committee members, especially Mr. J. Howard Hayes who has been of greatest assistance in many ways. I cannot adequately express my thanks to him."

Proceeding Mrs. Dallin's opening remarks, a trumpet solo, "Culpa Animarum" from Rossini's "Stabat Mater" was played by John Hason. Mrs. Sarah R. Vaughn, secretary of the library committee then presented "The Branch in Retrospect". The earliest record of a library in the Heights was in 1833, she said.

One of the first objectives of the Arlington Heights Study Club when it was organized in 1907 with Mrs. Dallin as president was to ask for library facilities, she said, but its request was not at first heeded. However, the club held steadfastly to its dream. The club was not alone in this dream. There were others equally interested. Mrs. Vaughn added. Finally, in 1898, the branch library was moved to the Locke school. In 1913, the library room was transferred to very small quarters in this school because of the need for more class rooms.

A committee was finally appointed by vote of town meeting and this committee considered using the old building on what is now the site of the new branch library. This, it was found, would involve great expense. The building of an addition to the Locke school was also found inadvisable. The library committee, in 1931, submitted plans for a new branch building but at the time there were too many other things needed so the project was set aside. An attempt was then made to have the construction of the building started as a WPA project but this was also set aside. Finally, in March, 1937, an appropriation of $32,000 was asked for and was unanimously voted for a new Heights Library.

In conclusion, Mrs. Vaughn said, "We are grateful but there is still much to be done. Two organizations have already established funds for the use of the new branch. The doors of this new building are open to everyone, we hope it will be used as a source of pleasure and inspiration to everybody."

The last speaker, C. Howard Roberts gave an informal chat on books. Mr. Roberts went back to the origin of writing which consisted of dies printed in clay. He recalled the keeping of records by Egyptians, and the patient writings by monks in the Dark Ages followed by the Renaissance. He told of how John Gutenberg, in Germany, became interested in making movable type which spread to every country in Europe within thirty-five years and revolutionized the making of records and the writing of books.

The reading of books, Mr. Roberts said, help make us more tolerant toward our fellowmen. There is more force to civilization in the public library than one can find in back of a 16-inch gun. The public library is a dynamic thing. Mr. Roberts cited several types of books including travel, history, science and the arts, poetry and drama, all of which can be found in any public library.

Following Mr. Roberts' talk, the string quartet played St. George's "American Regime" and the exercises closed with the benediction by Rev. Maurice J. O'Connor, pastor of St. James' Church.

The next day, Saturday, was open house when a large number of people visited the new branch library. During the afternoon, tea was served by the Arlington Heights Study Club, the Friday Social Club, the Sunshine Club and the Tower Mothers' Club. The library was thrown open to the public for the circulation of books on Monday of this week with Miss Jeanette Favreau, branch librarian at the Locke School for the past nine years, in charge.

Athletic Association Replies To Inquiry

Arlington High School, Arlington, Mass. January 17, 1938.

To The Arlington News, Arlington, Mass.

We wish to answer the inquiries made by Mr. Washburn concerning the Athletic Association set-up at the Arlington High School.

The Athletic Council consists of five members of the School Committee; the Superintendent of Schools; the Principal of the High School; the Treasurer of the Association, at present the Assistant Principal; the head coach of football; and one student elected by the lettermen and letterwomen of the school. When another sport is under discussion the coach of this sport becomes a member of the council.

All financial matters are handled by the Council. A budget for each sport is prepared and carefully followed. The Council's authority to act in all matters pertaining to the athletic interests and welfare of the school emanates from the authority of the School Committee.

I hope this answers and makes clear the Athletic setup at the High School. We shall be glad to furnish any further information regarding the Arlington High School Athletics to anyone who is interested.

Respectfully, Jane Carroll, Secretary of Student Council.

LOOKING INSIDE

Jan. 20, 1938. Town Meeting next Monday. Several matters are to come up which are of cost plenty of money and one or two articles will bring out debate. $15,113 for WPA materials; $8000 for unemployment; $42,000 more for snow and ice removal; $11,250 for Arlington's share of the cost of the Revere Street Bridge. All of these items are, I believe, recommended by the Finance Committee but they say "No" to a requested $2,500 for the celebration of Patriots' Day. The sum requested is much larger than usual and was intended to promote a special celebration with a big parade, prizes for floats, prizes for bands and essays for school children, etc.

P.S. The last Article asks for a change in the Finance Committee part of the Town's By-laws. The Article was inserted by the Finance Committee itself with the addition of over one hundred other signers and took Town officials, and even the writer, who usually catches on to most things—by surprise. What is the need of this change?

As near as I can find out the Finance Committee cannot interview Heads of Departments etc., on matters of budgets and expenditures without special permission of the Board having jurisdiction over that Department. This rule has always been in existence but never seemed to bother anyone. However trouble has somehow come up and the Finance Committee wants the By-laws changed. The Selectmen and Board of Public Works are the only ones who would be particularly affected. The debate ought to be interesting.

P.S.S. Answer the bell when the solicitor for the Community Chest arrives. You surely want to help the Boy Scouts—the Girl Scouts. You always gave at least a dollar to the Visiting Nurses. The Welfare Council, that does such valuable and faithful work needs your help. The Arlington Boys' Club wants to get started—will you help them and the other societies too? Add them all up and give your utmost.

Noted Lecturer Will Talk On 'World Affairs' At Unitarian Church

Mrs. Frank Mansfield Taylor will continue her "Talks on World Affairs", on Wednesday, January 26 at 10:30 a. m.

It is urged that those interested in the rapidly changing conditions of the United States and the serious questions that are arising daily in every country of Europe and the Far East should take this opportunity to hear Mrs. Taylor. She travels each summer in Europe and is in constant communication with officials in those countries whom she contacts in her travels. Of our own country she gives us information which is helpful and enlightening. Many of her experiences are thrilling and varied.

She gives three more lectures, January 26, February 23, and March 23 in the vestry of the Unitarian Church. Tickets $1.50 for three lectures or 75 cents a single lecture.

The Melrose Winter Carnival Ball, which is the opening event of its Winter Carnival, will be held in Memorial Hall this evening. This Ball as in other years will prove to be a gala event and very colorful, with the hall decorated to represent an outdoor winter scene. Those attending are urged to wear Winter Sport clothing, and come prepared for an enjoyable evening. The temperature of the hall will be kept low enough so that your clothing will not be uncomfortable.

The Winter Carnival Ball Queen will be announced by the committee around eleven o'clock.

Rev. Mr. Barber Will Read Whittier's Poems Next Sunday Evening

For several years Rev. Laurence L. Barber has given an annual reading of Whittier's "Snow-Bound" and a few other selected writings of this New England Quaker poet. This season Mr. Barber will give this reading on Sunday evening at 5:30 in the vestry of the Orthodox Congregational Church. Any persons interested in New England of earlier days—its home life and customs is cordially invited. There is no charge of any kind, and no offering will be taken. A short sketch of Whittier's life and estimate of his writings will be given.

spirit. Referring to several outstanding citizens who have passed away during the past year, Mr. Fellows said, "We have lost heavily through the death of citizens, who were deeply interested in seeing that the work of the Community Chest was accomplished. Mr. Fellows urged his listeners to keep headquarters informed of their progress during the ten-day Appeal."

In introducing Superintendent Keating, Rev. Mr. Mark said that since the loss of Dr. Dempsey as superintendent of schools, "we had apprehensions but since Mr. Keating has come to Arlington I don't know of a man who has ingratiated himself any more than Mr. Keating." Superintendent Keating in his brief talk on "Youth and Community Chests," said that he had been impressed by the feeling of friendliness in Arlington and that this spirit and the Community Chest certainly went together. He pledged that the school department would contribute 100 per cent in the Chest Appeal. Referring to the organizations participating in the Chest, he said everyone of them had an influence upon youth. He pointed to the interest shown in the Chest by boys and girls who had helped make posters, charts, etc., for the Appeal; this, he said, should be encouraged because these same boys and girls will be called upon to carry on the Community Chest in the future.

In introducing the principal speaker, Rev. Mr. Mark said, "Mayor Childs of Newton is a Christian gentleman. I don't know of any other public official in the Commonwealth who is so willing to give a helping hand."

Mayor Childs in opening his talk on "Community Spirit," remarked that a town which can bring out so many people on such a stormy night did not need to import a speaker to pep up a meeting. He said in part:

"I welcome you to a common task in which we have a common interest. The Community Chest is the organization with which we tie up to collect the coin with which our welfare and social agencies are operated. The curse of any community is its dividedness, in politics, religion, race and education. But, the Community Chest unites the community in a work for the best interests of all. Tonight marks the opening kick-off of the greatest game everybody can play, a game, which like football, teaches us to act quickly and unitedly.

"This is a game of neighborliness. Your neighbor is the man who needs you when you have the power to help. The Community Chest aids the well-being of the poor; it's a definite work for a definite need."

Not "Beggars"

"People whose hearts are in the right place will welcome you; don't think you are going out to beg, chisel or steal. You are giving people a chance to aid in a most worthwhile work."

"People are beginning to realize that agencies dealing with youth are doing keen, hard-headed work and that it is cheaper to prevent crime than to reform criminals. Youth is far better today than in the past but for every temptation that we had as youths, today youths have to face twenty. They then need your help. We've got to help develop character; the agencies in the Chest help to do this."

"This work isn't all rosy; you probably will meet the cold water brigade but those people are falling by the wayside. You'll find the money but before you ask a single person for a pledge, make your own and give until you're proud. Then you can go out with your chin up and ask your neighbor to do his part. For the Chest develops a spirit of giving in the finest stock that's on the exchange."

"We call on God Almighty to help us; it's his work and he is going to help us. I congratulate you on your willingness to accept this trust."

At the conclusion of Mayor Childs' stirring address, Rev. Mr. Mark called attention to the ringing of bells announcing the opening of the Appeal. The entire audience then rose and sang, "America" after which the several hundred workers left the hall eager to do their part to raise $32,000—the goal of the 1938 Appeal of the Arlington Community Chest.

Scout Exhibits Boosting Chest

To help publicize the Arlington Community Chest, several Troops of the Scout Council, Boy Scouts of America, are holding exhibits in store windows at Arlington Heights, the Center and East Arlington.

These exhibits are of first aid and camping equipment; the first, "live" exhibits put on several times a day by groups of Scouts who act as "injured" and "first aiders"; and thus give a true-to-life example of what a Scout learns to do when some one is the victim of an accident.

In the window at 195 Mass. Ave., East Arlington, Scouts of Troop 9, Church of Our Saviour, under the leadership of Scoutmaster Erving Pangborn gave a large exhibit of Scouting, the feature of which is a First Aid show by Scouts demonstrating different forms of first aid. This show was put on by them two days in the middle of this week and will be repeated on Saturday evening, January 22nd.

Troop 1, under the direction of Scoutmaster Wm. T. Anderson, Jr., also have a "live" first aid demonstration in the window of Wilton's Real Estate office, Mass. Ave., corner of Water st. This exhibit was on view the same days as that at East Arlington.

There are exhibits of camp equipment by Troops 7 and 41 at 470 and 1211 Mass. Ave. These exhibits contain all the latest and up-to-date equipment used by Scouts in camping.

These efforts on the part of Scouts of the Scout Council will, they hope, not only remind folks of the coming Community Chest drive, but give them a clear idea of two of the main features of Scouting, first aid and camping.

Town Employees Will Meet Next Tuesday

The regular meeting of the Arlington Town Employees' Association, Local 45, will be held in the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall, next Tuesday evening.

Buttons for the month of February, 1938 will be given out at this meeting by the Financial Secretary.

National President Robert Maxwell and Quincy and Sec-Treas. James J. Barry of Cambridge have been invited to attend this meeting. Henry Fenochitti will be the presiding officer.

The American Legion Auxiliary will hold a bridge and whist party on Monday, January 24, at 8 p. m. in the Old Town Hall. Mrs. Ethel Greim is chairman with Mrs. Alice Rinehart and Mrs. Elizabeth Berg assisting.

A MESSAGE TO THOSE WHO MUST

COUNT FUNERAL COSTS . . .

Many families, in former times unrestricted in choice are faced today with necessities arising out of reduced incomes.

It is a matter of importance to all, but particularly to people who must count the costs, that Edward M. Walsh can meet this need. We have a wide range of caskets at prices to meet the requirements of every family.

Of even greater importance are the fine surroundings and the personal service that make even an inexpensive funeral a satisfying comfort to friends and relatives.

You are invited to come and obtain complete information about funeral service and its cost. We serve all Creeds and Classes. No charge for use of our Funeral Home.
